

Spiritual Gifts Assessment

As with other gifts, it is impossible to fully appreciate and make use of our spiritual gifts until they have been opened. This tool will help you begin to open your spiritual gifts by guiding you through a self-assessment inventory. These 60 questions will help you identify which gifts you have received in greatest measure.

Instructions: For each of the 60 questions which follow, shade in the box to the right of the question corresponding to the number of the response that most closely matches how you perceive yourself.

Categories are presented across the top of the inventory.

- 4 consistently true
- 3 frequently true
- 2 occasionally true
- 1 infrequently true
- 0 rarely true

Spiritual Gifts Assessment Scoring Grid

Note: Even though the term scoring is used, it is purely so that you can determine where your gifts are strongest. No other value is placed on the gifts you have or don't have. Remember, all gifts are given by the Holy Spirit.

The grid you will use is on page 14. Before you enter your responses, however, look at this sample grid.

After you complete the grid on page 14, you will have the opportunity to explore your own "gifts cluster."

My Spiritual Gifts Assessment Scoring Grid

Instructions: Total the rating numbers for the three questions in the column on the left. For each gift there is a set of three questions, which could have a potential score of 0 to 12. The rectangular blocks will total your score as you shade in the number 0 1 2 3 4 for each of the three questions. For example, in the category of Administration, the answers to the three questions equal the numbers 2+4+3 total 9. The bar will be shaded in up to the number 9. Once the grid is completed, note that the longer the bar the stronger the corresponding gift.

The strongest gift(s) will generally have a total score of “7” or more. If you have more than one gift with a total of seven or more, then all of these gifts can be referred to as your “gift cluster.” Notice how each gift within the cluster has the potential to compliment and support another. The gifts within the cluster will need to be further explored to determine which ones you have truly been blessed with.

Spiritual Gifts Cluster

Now that you've completed the scoring grid, let's examine your spiritual gifts cluster. In the center circle of the cluster chart, write the spiritual gift that had the highest rating. In the remaining circles, write the other gifts which you rated a 7 or more. This is your gifts cluster.

Note: If you have several gifts with the same score, you will need to discern further which gift is most natural for you and best complements the other gifts that will make up your gifts cluster. In this case you also might ask a person who is close to you to review your inventory with you. That person's perception of your strengths may be useful in identifying the gifts with which you have been truly blessed.

Look at your completed gifts cluster and ask yourself these questions.

- How will I use this information?
- What surprises lie in my gifts cluster?
- How does my gifts cluster explain the way I have been operating as a Christian?
- How will my ministry/my congregation be affected now that I am aware of my gifts?

These next steps are to explore what the Holy Spirit is up to in blessing you with these gifts. Taking these steps often will help you approach the answers.

Pray as you seek the Holy Spirit's guidance as you explore your gifts.

Study to provide a solid foundation from which to use your gifts effectively. Study Scripture references, definitions and how each gift functions in the body of Christ. Remember, the mission is ultimately what's important.

Take time and make space to examine how you feel about each of the gifts in your cluster. Traditionally, the next step in some assessments after identifying your spiritual gifts would be to receive a list of tasks assigned to a particular gift. For example, if you have the gift of hospitality, the list might include greeter, usher or fellowship hour host. These are important tasks and should not be ignored or left undone. However, the Holy Spirit is calling the body of Christ beyond the church walls for the sake of the world. To begin to think outside the box, start with questions like "Where is my passion?" "Where is the greatest need?"

Celebrate and use your spiritual gifts. The mystery of these gifts is that, the more you use them, the more confident you become in them and the more effective your ministry is. Pay close attention to what happens when you are fully engaging your gifts and when you are not.

Listen! As you use your spiritual gifts, others may provide affirmation. The Holy Spirit finds many ways to speak, so listen when others recognize your gifts and express thankfulness for a job well done. The Holy Spirit is not the type to give a gift with no strings attached, and those affirmations are a kind of string. These are not strings to control you or your gifts, however, but strings to assist you in using them.

Spiritual Gifts Cluster Exercise

This exercise will help you to explore what gets in the way of your ability to use your gifts. Follow these instructions:

1. Take a few minutes to look closely at your scoring grid and cluster diagram.
2. If you are in a group, find your "Gift Mates." These are people with the same center gift. Record the group's answers on newsprint. (If no one else has the same center gift or you are doing these activities alone, skip to step 4.)
3. Share with the group the other gifts in your gifts cluster. Listen for the diversity in the combinations.
4. Begin a discovery process with the following discussion starters.
 - Did you know this gift (in the center circle) was your strongest gift?
 - Were there any surprises?
5. Now turn to these questions about your strongest gift.
 - How have I used this gift?
 - What gets in the way of my using this gift effectively?
 - What do I/we put in the way of this gift being used to its fullest in the community of faith?
6. Answer these bonus questions if you have time.
 - How do I make room in my life so that all my gifts can be used?
 - How do I enable others to make room to use all their gifts?
